Main Particulars

Manchester is at the heart of the Northern Powerhouse and is the fastest growing city outside of London. An Oxford Economics study anticipates that the levels of job creation in Manchester could outpace that of cities such as Berlin, Tokyo and Paris between 2015 and 2020.

House prices grew an impressive 10% in 2017, due to strong demand for city centre living, a massive student population, sprawling urban regeneration and the Northern Powerhouse initiative. 2018 saw Manchester named as the UK's Property Hotspot by Jones Lang Lasalle, who rates Manchester as their No 1 prospect for residential price growth over the next five years, with an annual average growth of 4.2%, compared with 2.4% across the UK.

With the northern gateway being welcoming over a billion pounds works of investment starting at Ancoats and leaning towards Oldham Road. This property is an opportunity not to be Missed, with Two Bed Apartmetns in Manchester City Centre achieving over £300,000.
